HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

Austin Hartvigsen, of the Peninsula News, played a saxophone in Bonham Brothers Boys Band when it marched for the first time in the Tournament of Roses Parade at Pasadena.

That was Jan. 1, 1934.

Last Saturday his son, Jerry, a student at Dana Junior High, marched with the 125-piece Bonham's Band at Pasadena. He played the baritone horn.

The twist to this item is that it rained both times—in 1934 and 1955—and that, as any good Southern Californian knows, is very unusual.

Did you see that outdoor Christmas display on Catalina Blvd., where Santa Claus was sprawled on the roof? He had slipped and fallen and scattered his toys from heck to breakfast.

Peninsula area homes won first and fourth in the annual S. D. Junior Chamber of Commerce decoration contest.

George Tasch, 1540 Chatsworth Blvd. took first place with an illuminated Nativity scene.

Thousands of cars paused in front of the house during the holidays. On one occasion, a little boy jumped out of a car, ran to the "manger" and tossed a stocking filled with candy to the life-like replica of the new-born child.

The display won sixth place in the national General Electric home decoration contest.

* * *

Mrs. R. Hastings Garland, 3304 Elliott St., placed fourth in the San Diego competition with her glistening snow scene complete with Santa Claus on the roof, Colored lights illumined the "snow" around the house. Candy canes lined the walk; there were candles on both sides of the front door, and a white tree in the window.

A pink-and-white styro-foam tree in the patio caused delighted comment.

In fact, Mrs. Garland received appreciative letters addressed only to "occupant" at 3304 Elliott St.

* * *

During the Christmas holidays I came across a variety of incidents, ranging from a gang of small boys yelling "You old fake!" at a sidewalk Santa Claus to a troop of Brownie Girl Scouts entertaining 15 elderly women at Edgemoor Farm.

The little girls brightened the lives of those women by staging a party for them. Each girl "adopted" one of the women for the occasion.

With some of their mothers, they took a complete luncheon to Edgemoor, decorated the tables, and ate gaily with their adopted "grandmothers." They played games and distributed gifts they had made themselves.

Later, each girl wrote a letter to her "grandmother."

* * *

The Brownies are a fine organization. Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls are largely supported by the Community Chest, and I was glad to see its Second United Success Drive do so well.

Some 185,000 persons contributed in the 1954 campaign, which produced $1,340,000—the largest amount ever raised in a single drive in the San Diego area.

OCEAN BEACH CUB SCOUTS ARE GUESTS OF NAVY ABOARD WARSHIP

Eyes were opened wide in amazement and questions of "what and why" were prevalent as the officers and men of the destroyer escort USS Vammen, played host December 31 to 47 Pack 125 Cub Scouts of Ocean Beach.

Cubmaster J. J. Beckman, of 4478 Del Monte Ave., den mothers and members of Cub Scout Pack 125 were welcomed aboard the Vammen by Lieut. Comdr. J. J. O'Brien, USN, commanding officer.

The scouts' tour of the ship began after each had come aboard in traditional Navy manner, first saluting the national ensign and then the officer of the deck.

Special escorts chosen from the ship's crew conducted the group throughout the ship and answered numerous questions as the group covered the ship from stem to stern.

After demonstrations of deck seamanship, damage control practices and a tour through the Engineering, Navigation, Gunnery and Communication departments, the scouts were awarded junior seaman certificates.

These read like this: "Having shown exceptionl interest and ability in Deck Seamanship, Damage Control, Engineering, Navigation, Gunnery and Communications and having qualified by demonstrating familiarity with quarterdeck etiquette, you are hereby appointed a Junior Seaman, USS Vammen (DE 644)."

With the ship's captain wishing them smooth sailing, the scouts, certificates in hand, left the ship, a happy and excited bunch of boys.

Tom Drake Appointment Announced By McDavid

Appointment of Col. Thomas D. Drake, USA, ret., of Ocean Beach, as deputy member of the State Board of Equalization, was announced this week by Robert E. McDavid, Fourth District member of the board.

McDavid, of Los Angeles, was elected to the board Nov. 2, succeeding William G. Bonelli. Drake was his campaign manager in San Diego County.

COL. THOMAS D. DRAKE

Peninsula Home Damaged By Fire Tuesday

Fire did heavy damage to a three-bedroom home at 4104 Narrangansett Ave., Tuesday.

The blaze, at 12:54 p.m., was discovered in a maid's room. The cause was undetermined but the Fire Department reported it was accidental.

Three engine companies fought the fire.

Hugh Greer, local contractor, gave an informative talk on Communism. He has made a thorough study of the subject.

A new member was inducted at the Dec. 21 meeting—Dr. William (Bill) Stegeman, director of research in the San Diego City Schools. He is a past president of the Chico, Calif., Kiwanis Club. He was introduced by George Claspill and inducted by Milt Lancaster.

Later Model F-102 Built In San Diego

A later model of the delta-wing F-102, first supersonic all weather interceptor built for the Air Force, has been completed at the San Diego plant of Convair Division of General Dynamics Corporation in the record time of 117 working days.

Designated the F-102A, the modified version was given engine and taxi tests at Lindbergh Field and trucked to Edwards Air Force Base December 16 for flight tests. Convair Engineering Test Pilot Richard Johnson made a shakedown flight December 20 and the next day flew the new plane supersonically in level flight—only six months after design work had been completed and manufacture begun.

Principal external difference between the F-102A and the prototypes that have been flying more than a year at Air Force test bases is a longer fuselage.

The after end of the fuselage is distinguished by two streamlined fairings. The delta-wing is unchanged except for campered leading edges and swept-up wing tips.

The canopy has been redesigned to give the pilot greater visibility.

The F-102A is powered by a Pratt and Whitney J-57 jet engine with after-burner.

Fishermen Hook Yellowtail New Year's Day

With the greatest sportfishing year in history just completed, deep sea anglers lost no time launching what might prove to be an even greater one New Year's Day.

Just to start the year right, rod and reelers brought in 15 yellowtail—the earliest catch of those big game fish in the memory of H. & M. Sportfishers and Point Loma Sportfishing Association officials.

The Mascot III and the Betty Lou, only boats to fish the Rock Pile that day, both hit yellows, but honor of taking the season's first fell to the Mascot. Ray Briggs, San Diego angler, got the first hookup and was credited with the first catch although Manny Silva and Ed Collard teamed up to actually bring the first one aboard. Silva hooked the fish and Collard finished fighting it.

Albert H. Bolson, of Beverly Hills, proved to be the high hook artist New Year's Day when he boated three yellows, but was closely pressed by Ed Ries, Imperial Beach, with two.

Ray Hudson, of Point Loma, topped anglers aboard the Betty Lou with two yellows to his credit, but Mrs. Hudson also got in on the act by hooking and landing an 18 pounder on a four-hook bottom fishing rig weighted by a one-pound sinker.

Bottom fishing was at its best for the entire week, and limit catches of big red cod were taken.

O. B. FIREBUG CELEBRATES NEW YEAR'S

The Ocean Beach firebug, after lying low for several weeks, apparently celebrated New Year's Eve by setting two blazes.

At 8:32 p.m. Friday, firemen were called to extinguish a trash can fire in the 4900 block on Santa Monica Ave. No property damage occurred.

However, at 11:45 p.m., a blaze did considerable damage to a duplex under construction in the 5000 block on W. Point Loma Blvd. Three engine companies brought the fire under control. It apparently had been set in the kitchen, the Fire Department reported.

Winter Driving Advice Issued

"Winterize your driving if you want to stay out of accident trouble." This advice was issued today by B. R. Caldwell, Commissioner of the California Highway Patrol, in a warning to drivers who fail to adjust their traffic habits to combat winter's deadly tricks.

"Frosted windshields and slippery roadways are two conditions calling for special action by motorists," declared Caldwell. "Clean the windshield and all car windows thoroughly before driving, keep the speed down in adverse weather and allow extra stopping distances on slippery roads."

"Obscurment of the driver's vision was noted in one out of every ten fatal traffic accidents last year," said the Commissioner. "Nearly half of these obstructions were on the vehicle itself such as rain, snow or frost on the windshield."

"To winterize your driving make sure you obey all the traffic rules being extra considerate of the hazards caused by winter weather. A clear windshield and less speed are safety habits necessary at this time of year."

THE CASE OF THE PROMISED PONY

"Daddy, you promised! You said as soon as we moved to our new ranch I could have a pony! You promised!"

"I know, Junior, I know. And you'll have your pony as soon as this corral is done."

"Junior and I will both help," declared his wife, Betty, as she picked up a board from the lumber pile. "Bob, what is this name stamped on the end of this board? C-H-E-M-O-N-I-T-E."

"That means this lumber has been pressure treated with a non-leaching, rot-resistant preservative," Bob explained. "Mr. Blake at the lumber yard said any wood in contact with the ground, and especially around animals should be pressure treated. This corral will last up to 10 times as long as an untreated structure."

"But, Bob, we were trying to keep costs down ----."

"The whole corral will only be about $20 more," Bob explained.

Byron Story Still Puzzle

A lecture-portrait of the "most controversial figure" in modern English poetry will be presented by John Robert Clarke when he speaks on "The Psychic Wardrobe of Lord Byron," Tuesday, January 11, at 8:00 p.m., at the House of Hospitality, Balboa Park. The portrayal of Byron's life and ideas in terms of today's world will be the tenth in the current "Adventures in Living" series of public lectures under auspices of the City Park and Recreation Department. Clarke will sift among the poems to inquire how much romantic illusion figured in this poet "who could never be forgotten by those who once saw him."

Noting that the strange story of Byron has remained buried until recently, Clarke says that for this reason his poetry, his antics, and his way of life have thus far seemed unreal to most Americans.

"Seldom," says Clarke, "have critics troubled to look behind the Byronic pose of this defiant experimentor to learn what the real Byron was trying to do. Colorful as he is by legend, the human puzzle of this man who could swim the Hellespont and spellbind the House of Lords at the age of 24, is even more challenging and thought-provoking than any fiction he could make up about himself."

In its fifth winter series and sixty-fifth lecture in San Diego, "Adventure in Living" argues history versus television as a means of stimulation in the present. The public is invited to attend either by series or individual lecturers, according to Mrs. Maxwell Rice, program chairman for the current Park talks.

Local Alumni To Attend Pomona Fete January 25

Pomona College alumni of Ocean Beach will join other San Diego County alumni of the college in celebrating "Pomona College Night" Tuesday evening, Jan. 25, at a dinner at 7 p.m. in Mission Valley Country Club, Camino Del Rio, San Diego.

Dr. Alvin Scaff, associate professor of sociology at the college, will be the speaker. His subject will be "The Communist Problem in Southeast Asia." Norman Kaufman, San Diego, a 1950 graduate of the college, will be chairman of the meeting. Alumni are invited to bring husbands or wives. Parents of Pomona College students and other friends of the college are also invited.

Dr. Scaff has a knowledge of the Philippines shared by few Americans. As a young graduate of the Chicago Theological Seminary he was sent to the Philippines in 1940 by the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions and assigned to teach at Silliman University. With the Japanese occupation of the islands, he and his wife took refuge in the hills where their first child, now 12, was born. Eventually they were captured and placed in Japanese internment camps, the last being at Los Banos where they were rescued by the American Army in 1945.

A member of the Pomona faculty since 1947, Dr. Scaff with his family spent 1953-54 in the Philippines to study the Communist-inspired Huk Rebellion, for which he had been granted a Fulbright Fellowship. His address Jan. 25 will be based on this study.

8,000 Phone Calls Per Minute Made During Last Year

Have any idea how many telephone calls you made during 1954?

If you have one of Pacific Telephone's installation — and there are 170,000 of them in San Diego—you helped run the record up to nearly 8,000 calls every minute of every hour.

And if your telephone was newly connected during the year it aided in gaining 140,000 for Southern California at the rate of one every three-and-a-half minutes. The company had a total of 2,140,000 in the Southland at year's end.

There now are 232,000 telephones in the San Diego extended area, in increase of 19,000 for the year. These subscribers make 1,200,000 calls daily.

To keep all those calls flashing across the wires required a plant investment which has reached a current $723 million in Southern California, district manager Don Lewis said.

The company spent $97 million for an expansion and improvement in nine southern counties during the year. Some $15,000,000 was spent on construction in San Diego county. Among other things, Pacific Telephones:

1. Added long distance dialing facilities that enable customers to reach most points in the nation in less than a minute.
2. Standardized 300,000 telephone numbers to seven digit dialing patterns. These numbers now fit into a nationwide program for nationwide operator long distance dialing.
3. Changed 50,000 manual telephones to dial in Riverside, Orange, Palmdale, Del Mar, Costa Mesa and El Segundo.
4. Installed its two-millionth telephone.
5. Completed 30 new buildings or major additions and started nine more.

Horace Mann Junior High School's new auditorium, recently completed, is the first of seven authorized by the 1953 school bond issue.

WHO'S NEW IN POINT LOMA

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kennett of Arcadia are settling in their own home on Freeman St. Mrs. Kennett is most anxious to begin activity locally in civic and church functions.

It was a long haul, all the way from Vancouver, British Columbia to Point Loma, but the E. H. Pennell family is most happy. One reason for elation is the fact that they are living on Charles street and are not far from their pride and joy, a sail boat, which they brought with them. Mr. and Mrs. Pennell have three sons, Dennis, Ernest and Brian.

The Welcome Mat is out .. . . and the Roscoe Arnetts are thrilled with being back in their own neighborhood again. They are now residing in their own home on Hyacinth and find a new home most refreshing. Mr. Arnett is a retired Colonel of the United States Marine Corps. They lived, for a while, on Oak Glen Drive.

Tired of being surrounded by just four walls, Miss Neva Nye, director of nurses at County Hospital, is now residing in a lovely home on Kingsley where she can enjoy the beauty of her own garden. Miss Nye's father lives with her.

When visiting the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Schrieber and daughter, Cheryl, don't be surprised if you are greeted with "and the top of the world to you." The Schreiber's home, on Runnymeade Lane, is perched high atop the hill overlooking a spectacular view of the city and bay with an awsome backdrop of mountains and sky.

Mission Hill's loss is Point Loma's gain . . . Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McGowan lived on Ibis street prior to moving into their own home on San Elijo. This home boasts an outstanding garden which is much to the delight of the family. The McGowan's daughter Susan, attends Cabrillo school.

A spanking new home and a new neighborhood are proving most enjoyable to the Harry Evans "quintet". The family moved into their new home on Runnymeade Lane to find their view even more wonderful than they had imagined. The "quintet" is completed with the three children, Paul, Keith and Becky.

Apartment living in Chicago and out door living in California are great extremes. Lt. (jg) USN and Mrs. C. F. Von Essen are finding this to be more fact than fiction now that they are residing on Wisteria Drive. The Von-Essens have two youngsters, Eric and Kamal, both of whom love the out doors.

A New Year and a brand new ranch style home was in order for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sylvia and their three-year-old son, Michael when they moved to Gage Drive from Narragansett street.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Geographically, it's a long way from Dixie to the Far West. Yet, spiritually, there is so close a tie one can almost hear the rebel yell in the West.

* * *

This fact probably answers inquiries as to why so many political non conformists come out of West and South. It is not by accident, Sen. William Knowland (Calif.), party leader is departing from party lines, nor an accident Sen. Wayne Morse (Ore.) is independent; neither is fact for first time a senator, Strom Thurmond (S. C.) was elected by write-in votes.

C. W. Harder

* * *

There is a deep seated growing revolt in under developed states of West and South against continued encroachments of Federal government into state affairs especially Federal taxing revenue sources rightfully belonging to local governments.

* * *

In a few days, many state legislatures convene. Pressing problem in state capitals will be raising revenues.

* * *

Due to population expansions in these states, money is needed principally for schools and highways. Yet problem is finding some revenue source federal government hasn't already grabbed to finance monstrous foreign give-away programs.

* * *

For example, only 32 states levy sales tax, but 7 out of 11 Western states have one, and Oregon is due for one early in the year. All 11 Southern states have a sales tax. Only 32 states have state income taxes, but 10 out of 11 Western states have one, all 11 Southern states have one. While State gasoline taxes average 4.83c per gallon, in West average is 5.5c per gallon, in south 6.5c per gallon, on top of national gasoline tax.

* * *

And even though states need more revenue, it is difficult to further tax real estate.

* * *

That is because Federally owned lands cannot be locally taxed, and in West Federal government holds on with stubborn determination to 54.5% of all land, 88.5% of all rural lands.

* * *

Thus, over half the land which under private ownership would help support local costs is held by Federal government. Neither can most states further tax industry without ruining them.

* * *

Many basic Western industries such as wool, metals and lumber already fight for existence against cheap foreign competition permitted by reciprocal trade treaties, other tariff cutting dodges. For example, Philipine mahogany plywood, presumably a semi-luxury item, is being shipped in by Japan and sold in Western markets for less than same product made from native Western soft-woods.

* * *

Possibly, as situation worsens, Western and Southern states can get Federal aid and thus recapture pittance of money that should have gone to states in first place.

* * *

But sovereign states are reluctant to go hat in hand to Washington. It smacks too much of pawn shop financing. In 1952 West went solidly for a change from twenty year trend and solid South broke over the same reason. Yet no appreciable change has been noted. And that's why Congress finds Westerners standing up with Southerners for a long, loud rendition of the rebel yell.

Witty Satire Opens At Globe On Mon.

A witty satire on love and politics set in Washington during the Truman administration, "Affairs of State" will open the New Year at The Old Globe Theatre. Starting on January 10 and playing every night but Sunday for a limited run, the show will feature an outstanding cast under the direction of Craig Noel.

Leading Lady

Leading Lady Charlotte Henry, who will be remembered for her career in motion pictures and on the professional stage, has appeared as principal in three Globe hits: "John Loves Mary", "Strange Bedfellows" and "Goodbye, My Fancy". Leading man Robert Hartle, a graduate of famed Cleveland Playhouse, last winter was visible in a Channel 8 TV show, "Green Thumb". Globe Theatre favorites Jack Mosher and Eleanor Rose, last seen in the Community Theatre production "Lo and Behold", each carried off an Atlas Award for their roles in that comedy. Bill Nelson has done radio work at WWRL and WMGM in New York, in Bremerton, Wash., and as a disc jockey aboard the USS Princeton, broadcasting to Task Force 7 during the Korean campaign.

Hon. Dan Cupid

These five fill the stellar roles in "Affairs of State", a smartly paced Louis Verneuil comedy relating what happens when the Hon. Dan Cupid drops a few bombs over the Capitol dome.

A personable Senator (Hartle), enamoured with chic and lovely Constance Russell (Miss Rose), wife of an ex-secretary of State (Mosher), fears political repercussions if Constance hastily marries him as soons as Russell grants her a divorce. Therefore he lets Constance hang a "Reserved" sign on him by arranging a marriage of convenience with Russell's niece Irene (Charlotte Henry), a quiet little nobody.

Comic Overtours

Irene turns the tables on her aunt by becoming a fascinating hostess and a perfect helpmate. Constance grows increasingly jealous of the Senator's wife-in-name-only. The Senator himself is beset with indecision. But Philip Russell, the wily old diplomat, watches and waits.

Comic overtones of this romantic muddle are heightened by dialogus bright with political lampooning. Adding to the hilarity is the character of still another fictitious Secretary of State, played by Bill Nelson. And Timothy Williams appears as Lawrence, the impeccable butler of the Senator's Chevy Chase home.

Portrait Of Paris Scheduled Jan. 18

"Portrait of Paris", one of the most beautiful travelogues ever made on this fabulous city, will be presented in San Diego at the Russ Auditorium for one night only, Tuesday, January 18. Curtis Nagel, world traveller and lecturer, will personally narrate this all color motion picture.

Nagel's color films are the most unusual and exclusive ever shot on Paris. He persuaded the French Government to give him full authority and carte blanche with his camera. It was with this stamp of approval that he was able to carry on from where the average camera man has to stop. Mainly the prohibited filming of the interiors of Paris' most historical buildings and palaces; such as the Baths of Emperor Julian, Palais Justice, St. Chapelle, Church of Madelein, Palais Royale, Cluny mansion. Victor Hugo's home, Doyen's famous restaurant, Notre Dame, famed Chateaus, the Grand Prix, Paris Opera House, Ritz Hotel, the Louvre, including the Mona Lisa, Venus de Milo, the Crown Jewels and scores of other insights on the real Paris.

Another highlight and exclusive of Nagel's "Portrait of Paris" is the on-the-spot filming of floor shows going on in Paris' world-famous night clubs.

In total "Portrait of Paris" contains 112 motion picture sequences in full color. It would take a tourist over three months to cover the wonderful sights Curtis Nagel has captured on film.

All mail orders and ticket sales will be taken care of by the Palmer Box Office, 640 Broadway, San Diego. All seats are reserved, 90c, $1.20, $1.50, tax included. Tickets will not be available at the Russ Auditorium until the night of the performance.

Suggestions Given For Phone Book Use

In case you're looking for a number in the new telephone directory being delivered this week, there's a good chance that it has been changed since last year.

Don Lewis, Pacific Telephone district manager, said a record total of 200,000 numbers are printed in the book, and that 75,000 are new ones.

About 60,000 changes are mostly for subscribers who have either moved within the county during the 12 months life of the old book or who have acquired new telephone service.

A majority of 6300 telephone subrscibers recently connected to the new Pacific Beach diel equipment office are listed, including 2600 new Clairemont subscribers. New prefixes there BRoadway-3 and BRowning-6.

Numbers for 14,000 telephones in coastal sections of northern San Diego county are being converted to seven digit dialing patterns on January 2nd, effective date of the new book.

New prefixes for these exchanges are SAratoga-2 for Oceanside, PLateu-3 for Encinitas, PLaza-6 for Rancho Santa Fe, nd PAlace-4 for Vista.

Initial distribution of the new grey-covered directory will include 170,000 copies in San Diego, 28,000 in northern parts of the county, and 70,000 in the south county, for an increase of 30,000 over last year.

Lewis said the large percentage of changed numbers points to the need to use the directory properly. San Diego metropolitan area telephone users now are making 60,000 mistakes in dialing daily, and are wasting 166 man hours daily in the process.

Lewis suggested three steps for good telephone usage:

1. Look up all numbers in the new directory.
2. Write the number down.
3. Listen for the dial tone. With the number in front of you, dial the first two letters of the prefix and the pilot numeral, followed by the four numbers.

Two available sizes of tabulated personal calling list booklets are available for the asking at your local telephone business office.

Lewis also reminded all subscribers to check their old directories for valuables before turning them in to the delivery man, or disposing of them.

HEALTH FOR ALL

REST AND TUBERCULOSIS

With all the new drugs that have been found in recent years to cure man's ills, we sometimes forget that what drugs do, basically, is help the body's natural healing powers. They do not replace those healing powers, but sometimes they do give a very strong assist.

Before drugs were found that could be used in treating tuberculosis, the basic treatment for the disease was rest. Today, with the new drugs, rest is still recommended for most tuberculosis patients. When the patient is lying quiet, his body has a better chance to fight the invading tubercle bacilli. His breathing is slower, so that the damaged areas in his lungs are less disturbed. That helps to keep the infection from spreading.

When we have a broken bone, it hurts if we move it, and so we are not tempted to exercise it and thereby interfere with its healing. Tuberculosis in the lungs is not usually felt in this way, so that the patient must be quiet without the reminder of pain, simply because he knows it will help him to get well.

How completely any tuberculosis patient should rest—whether he should stay in bed all the time, or be allowed to be up and about to some extent—is something his own doctor has to decide. Tuberculosis affects everyone who has it in a different way, depending upon such things as where the infection is located in the lung and how the body resists it. The doctor, taking these things into consideration, recommends a 'custom tailored" regimen for his patient, not only of medicine, but of rest as well. His object is to put together the best possible combination of treatment and natural healing powers to overcome the disease.
